

Henry Nguyen

LET'S GO SPARTAN

About me

A college student at San José State University who takes both academics and personal growth seriously. Balancing work, school, and life hasn't always been easy, but I've stayed persistent and resilient. Lead by curiosity about many subjects, from management information systems and ethics to ecology and cultural studies, and I approach learning with both discipline and creativity. Outside of school, I enjoy exploring fashion, fitness, and technology. I value family, love, and good health as the foundations of a meaningful life, and I'm motivated by ambition, hard work, and the desire to build a fulfilling future.

Featured experiences and projects

Building an commercial online business

In 2019, I'd built an online commercial store on Amazon for private own. Selling outdoors activity gears. From analyze the markets, and data we obtained from the market history. We were able to figured out what category, what products and how are we answering the market based on our finds. That was such a phenomenal experience as I learned so much from the beginning to the end.

Credits:

Created with images by • zimmytws - RALEIGH,NC/USA - 4-25-2019: Students walking on the campus of North Carolina State University in Raleigh • michelangeloop - Mountaineer conquers the summit of the Tramont • Syda Productions - students or graduates with diplomas taking picture • sean824 - milestone • standret - Table, document on it. Handsome man is working at the factory of creating eco boxes • Xalanx - Woman rock climber closeup on gear